Article: Church Planting in Metro Detroit 2009

Since 2006, Linda and I have been praying about planting a new church in the Metro Detroit area to help reach a new generation of people with the gospel of Jesus Christ. I believe that in the near future Detroit will be a strategic city in which God will train up many disciples to engage the world with His gospel and mission. Although Metro Detroit has seen a sharp decline in population and economy, there are many signs of its future growth and potential influence. But beyond that, it is obvious that there is still much gospel work left to be done in this city and its surrounding areas.

In the past Metro Detroit has risen to become an international region drawing many kinds of people from all over the world. These immigrants have settled in this region for decades and are now raising generations of children who will unlikely know the Lord unless established churches like ours begin a missions-movement to capture their hearts and lives for Christ. The Hmong is just one among many people groups in Detroit raising a new generation of community leaders, professionals, and cultural influencers who will live their lives never professing Christ as their Lord. There are many outside the Church willing and capable of addressing the difficult issues facing Detroit today. But without a resurgence of a new generation of Christ followers, who will share the hope of true restoration found only in Christ's death and resurrection?

In February 2008, I met with a small group of church members and elders for an informational meeting regarding church planting. I proposed to the meeting a research strategy that would be a practical and prayerful way to seek God in using Warren Hmong Alliance Church to commission a small team to plant a new church community. The proposal was received well with many encouraging comments. There are three phases. Phase I and II are completed. Phase III - Recruit and commission a church planting team from WHAC and send out summer 2009.

We invite you to celebrate and dream with us as we look at Metro Detroit with a fresh pair of missionary eyes and as we gaze beyond Detroit to the rest of the world.

For the glory of Christ,
 Daniel and Linda Yang
